CLEANLY WOMAN.

Erroneously Thinks by Scouring Her Scalp That She Cures Dandruff.

Cleanly woman has an erroneous idea that by scouring the scalp, which removes the dandruff scales, she is curing the dandruff. She may wash her scalp every day, and yet have dandruff her life long, accompanied by falling hair, too. The only way in the world to cure dandruff is to kill the dandruff germ, and there is no hair preparation that will do that but Newbro's Herpicide. Herpicide by killing the dandruff germ, leaves the hair free to grow as healthy

LONGFELLOW'S HOME
 Birthplace of Poet Reproduced at Portland Fair.

IS MAINE STATE BUILDING

Birthplace of America's Foremost Poet is Made Object of Interest at Lewis and Clark Exposition. Replica is Faithful Study of Original Dwelling.

Portland, July 22.—A structure that is an exact reproduction of the place where Henry Wadsworth Longfellow was born is to be seen at the Portland fair.

The building has attracted a great deal of attention, especially from Western people, most of whom have never visited Portland, Me., to see for themselves the original.

The house in which Longfellow was born was, at the time, the finest in Portland. It was the home of Samuel Stephenson, a brother-in-law of Hon. Stephen Longfellow, the poet's father. Stephen Longfellow and Zilpah Wadsworth were married January 1, 1804, in the parlor of a house on Congress street, Portland, where young Henry W. spent his boy-hood and youth. Mrs. Stephenson invited her brother and his wife to spend the winter of 1806-07 with her at the big house at the corner of Fore and Hancock streets, as her husband was away on business in the West Indies and it was lonely for her in the big house.
 Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, named after Lieutenant Henry Wadsworth, was born in the Fore street house February, 27, 1807.

Longfellow's birthplace is a three-story frame building, constructed after the peculiar style of architecture characteristic of the period. It is severely rectangular in shape, with a hip roof, and the only decoration is a small cornice over the doorway which is the center of the front wall. The house is painted white, and a white picket fence enclosing a small grass plot at the left of the entrance. The room in which the poet was born is the front chamber, in the second story at the right. On entering the building, one climbs several steps, is admitted to a hall from which stairs lead to the floors above. The living rooms are very large and comfortable, and open off to the right and left from the center of the hall. The birth room has been fitted up in colonial style, with some rare old furniture, notable among which is the bookcase that was formerly owned and used by the poet.

On the walls of two of the rooms at the Longfellow home at the exposition, the entire poems "Hiawatha" and "Evangeline" are posted artistically on cards.
 The building is comfortably furnished, and is popular because of the quiet restful air that prevades it. Arthur C.
 Jackson, of Damariscotta, the executive commissioner, is in charge of the building, which is open to the public at all times. Mrs. Jackson is hostess.

POSSIBLY A MILLION LOSS

Unusual Temperature in Inland Empire Great Damage to Spring Wheat. Loss Twenty-five Per Cent in Some Localities. Fall Wheat Safe.

Spokane, July 22.—Weather in the inland empire, as a rule, was fully as hot today as yesterday and the damage to spring wheat is growing. In some localities a loss of 25 per cent of the crop is estimated, in other sections the damage is estimated at five per cent.
 If the hot weather continues, the aggregate loss in Big Bend and Palouse may reach a million dollars as the crop this year is unusually heavy. Fall wheat is entirely out of danger. Harvesting will begin within a week on fall wheat.

 be taken to the state house on Sunday morning to lie in state.

 Fairly on Road to Good Health.

J. T. N. Callaway, who has been on an extended tour of the East, Middle West and South in the interests of S.
 Elmore & Company returned yesterday on the afternoon train. Mr. Callaway states that he found dealers throughout the country he touched, without exception, disinclined to talk business until they ascertained the extent of the sockeye run. He went as far east as Cleveland, Ohio, and as far south as Oklahoma City.

Mr. Callaway was not in the best of health when he left Astoria and on reaching Salt Lake City was taken quite seriously ill. He persisted in pushing on to Denver and at this latter city his condition became precarious. The physicians in attendance accredited the cause of Mr. Callaway's illness to suppressed gripe, a form of that malady which is considered most dangerous.
 While not himself, by any means, Mr.
 Callaway is now enjoying fairly good health.

REPLIES TO MEAD

Gov. Johnson, of Minnesota Sends Letter to Washington Executive.

LAYS STRESS UPON "DUTY"

Says Honor of Requisition of Ida Johnson, he Supposed Was Result of Adherence to Duty, Not as a Favor to Minnesota.

St. Paul, July 22.—In a pointed letter Governor Johnson has replied to a lengthy communication recently received from Governor Albert E. Mead, of Washington, severely criticizing the Minnesota governor's methods of requisition.
 Governor Mead recently honored a requisition for the extradition of Ida Johnson, a woman wanted by the police of Minneapolis, and inferred that he did it as a favor to Governor Johnson. The latter's answer in part as follows:

"Your letter seems to imply that when you honored the requisition for Ida Johnson you conferred a favor upon this state or upon me personally; and that when the requisition for Jessie Allen was approved by me it was a personal affront to you or your state. If you will pardon the suggestion, I think your view of the matter is entirely wrong. The people of Minnesota have the same interest as you and the people of Washington in enforcing the law and prosecuting criminals.

"When you honored the requisition from this state I assume that you did it as a matter of duty. When I was requested to honor the requisition from your state on being advised by the attorney general that it was clearly defective and insufficient, I never stopped to consider what state it came from, but out of a sense of duty, refused to honor it.

"The reason for refusing the extradition was heretofore explained to you.
 I shall continue to perform whatever seems to be my duty in these matters as each case is presented wherever the requisition comes from, without favor or discrimination, and have no doubt that you will do the same."

BEFORE GRAND JURY

Major Schmitz of San Francisco Faces Tribunal.

NON FEASANCE IN OFFICE

Fiddling Executive of Bay City in Hot Water. Alleged Failure of Schmitz to Collect City Rentals and Deposit Money According to Charter.

San Francisco, July 21.—Mayor Eugene Schmitz was called before the grand jury today to answer alleged charges of non-feasance in office and neglect of duty as mayor of San Francisco.

A subpoena had been served upon him.
 He was questioned for over an hour by the inquisitorial body.

Among the questions said to have been raised were the charges of failure upon the part of the mayor to collect city rentals and to deposit money thus received in strict accordance with the provisions of the charter. The mayor is said to have replied that he acted in accordance with legal advice.

Today's Weather.

Portland, July 22.—Western Oregon and Western Washington; Sunday, fair and not so warm in the interior. Eastern Oregon and Eastern Washington; occasionally threatening, with showers and thunder storms. Not so warm.

Fear Another Mutiny.

Odesa, July 22.—A report has reached here from Sebastopol to the effect that a mutinous conspiracy has been discovered among the crews of the vessels of the Black sea fleet in consequence of which the summer maneuvers have been cancelled.
